A WARNING.

Man at Telephone—Let me have the gas office, please.
Operator—Certainly. But you know we don't allow any swearing over our lines.

An Easy Fit.
A number of years ago there lived in northern New Hampshire a notorious woman-hater. It was before the day of ready-made clothing, and wanting a new suit, he was obliged to take the material to the village tailor.

She took his measurements, and when she cut the coat, made a liberal allowance on each seam.

The man's dislike of women in general prevented his having a fitting. He took the finished garment without trying it on. It was much too large, and his disgust was apparent in the answer he made to the friendly loafer on his first visit to the post office, when he wore the despised article.

"Got a new coat, Obed?" said the loafer.
"No, I hain't!" said Obed. "I've got seven yards of cloth wrapped round me."—Youth's Companion.

A Knowing Girl.
When young Lord Stanleigh came to visit an American family, the mistress told the servants that in addressing him they should always say "Your Grace." When the young gentleman one morning met one of the pretty house servants in the hallway and told her that she was so attractive looking he thought he would kiss her, she demurely replied, clasping her hands on her bosom and looking up into his face with a beatific expression, "O Lord, for this blessing we are about to receive, we thank thee."—Lippincott's.

"Would you have a pickpocket arrested if you detected one in the act of going through your pockets?"
"With one exception."
"What's that?"
"Not if it was my wife."

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Coal ashes are of no value to your garden.

Grow plenty of hay, and some wheat and oats.

Chicks in a large run will exercise more and hence keep warmer and healthier.

Do not feed the young chicks anything for at least thirty-six hours after hatching.

Diversified farming and crop rotation are the best antidotes for farm mortgages.

Foul drinking water and filthy drinking vessels are a prolific source of trouble.

The boar should always have a large lot to himself, and never be confined in dark, damp quarters.

Rape is sometimes sown on corn ground just preceding the last cultivation, and with timely rains the rape will furnish a great deal of pasture after the corn is harvested.

The farmer who has all the land he can well tend to has no need of more land. He would be much happier with a reasonable amount of land, only enough so that it can be well improved, fertilized and cultivated.

Some make a practise in setting out an apple orchard to plant peach trees between the rows of apple trees, allowing the short-lived peach tree to die before the apple tree matures.

Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes or Rhode Island Reds will grow into hens at maturity that will weigh from six to eight pounds when fattened for market, bringing more than a dollar each.

Horses comprise nearly 45 per cent. of the total live stock value of the country, their figures being $2,276,363,000, as compared with $5,138,486,000 for horses, milch cows, cattle, swine, sheep and mules.

In the selecting and buying of cattle select the most healthy looking animals, and then determine positively with the tuberculin test as to whether or not they are free from tuberculosis.

If you have a patch of rye use it as a soiling crop for cows. You can begin to cut and feed it when it is about a foot high. Cut only enough at a time for two days' feeding, and store it in the shade, where it will keep green.

The first thing is to have everything connected with the milk and milking as clean as it is possible to make them. The other essential is to cool the milk as soon as possible after it is drawn from the cows and hold it to a low temperature till it is to be used.

Many farmers milk cows of questionable cleanliness in vessels known to be impure and place the milk after milking in a warm room, often near the kitchen stove. Such milk is not only unwholesome for food at any time, but it will soon sour and become unfit for human food.

Give the hen a good dusting with insect powder two or three times during incubation, and a good one as she comes off with the chicks. Lice are a great enemy of young chicks, hence care must be taken with the sitting hen and her nest to see that no lice breed during incubation.

Do not leave the cows out in the lot, as warm weather comes on, but keep them at nights in their accustomed stalls with plenty of soft, dry bedding. It is more convenient to milk a cow in her usual stall than in an open lot, where she may wander about at will or be disturbed by the other cows.

The pen of breeding fowls should be furnished with clean nests and the eggs gathered with clean hands. No grease or oil of any kind must touch them. Eggs should be gathered frequently and stored in a mild and not too dry place to prevent them from chilling and losing moisture. They should be turned daily while held and set as soon as possible. Fresh eggs are most fertile.

The ground for the future bean crop is usually, if possible, fall or winter plowed, or at least plowed very early in the spring. Soils producing good corn crops grow fine beans. An ideal bean soil is a sandy clay loam enriched by barn fertilizers, or clover sods, and as it loves a loose, deep soil, although shallow rooted, a manured clover sod put to corn the season before and well tilled proves an ideal place for the growth of the bean.

The way to reclaim a gully or an unnecessary ditch in a field is to fill it with trash and keep it filled. The trash will hold it from washing any wider or deeper and will gradually catch all soil and sediment that washes into it. By and by it will become filled with trash and soil and when the trash decays this soil will become the best in the field—deep, porous and full of the best available plant foods.

Grapes propagated from layering come true to name. Hence when you start new grape plants in this way choose canes from your best varieties. Well-rooted young grape plants will begin to bear the third year after setting in a permanent row and with good cultivation and general good care, including proper annual pruning, they will bear good fruit every year, increasing in productiveness with age.

In resetting plants it is of permanent importance to place the roots in the soil in as natural a position as possible, a little deeper than they grew in the original bed, making the soil hold them fast, fan shaped and firm. Holes too deep or holes too shallow are both objectionable, the one being too apt not to be closed at the bottom, the other forcing the roots into a matted condition.

When being fattened wether lambs should have some succulent food in their ration, for the reason that they will remain healthier and not be troubled with the common disorder called stretches and will usually make a better gain.

You cannot afford to keep poor cows and the best way to get good ones is to raise them yourself. Breed the cows you have to a full-blooded dairy male. If you cannot secure the services of one go in with some of your neighbors and buy one in partnership.

With favorable soil and climatic conditions good crops of rape may be obtained from broadcast seeding, but whenever there is any danger of the surface soil becoming very dry during the time the seed is germinating or when land is at all foul, drilling will give much better results.

A clean cornfield honors and profits its owner.

Turning under cowpeas adds numus to the soil.

An acre of good land will grow many tons of stock beets.

Warm weather is coming and you will need a good, cool place for milk and cream.

Many farmers make the mistake of planting their apple trees too close together.

An easy way to secure new grape vines is to propagate them by layering.

Keep dusting the setting hen with insect powder, before and after she hatches her chicks.

The careful man will turn and examine the udders of all his ewes intended for breeding.

Never allow the fowls to drink from a stream into which the poultry yards and barn yards drain.

The man who desires large profits from his flock should provide it with the best that good management will produce.

If you have no silo and cannot build one this year then plant an acre or more of beets or other roots for winter green feed for the dairy cows.

Select a dairy breed of cattle whose product and offspring will bring the highest possible price in any market, and you will surely be successful in dairying.

But sometimes the large gray louse gets into the head and under the wings of the chicks, then it is best to rub these parts with grease of some kind. Lard and carbolic acid is good.

Developing of new sections in several of the states of the middle west for dairy purposes in itself will call for more extra dairy cows than all the country can possibly furnish.

A mixed grain ration of corn and oats, when fed with clover hay, is more efficient than a single grain ration of corn for producing large gains in an 84-day feeding period.

Look well to a supply of autumn bloomers by planting a bed or asters. The aster has an almost endless variety of colorings and blooms when most other flowers are past their season of beauty.

Clover hay, when fed with a mixed grain ration of corn and oats, is more efficient for producing gains than timothy hay. In this test clover hay produced 58 per cent. more gains than timothy.

While box stalls are safer than single stalls for stabling horses, they are also more expensive and do not offer merits not possessed by single stalls so far as they may influence the horse in taking on flesh.

It is not reasonable to expect strong and healthy chicks from immature, weak and unhealthy parents. Standard, healthy and vigorous breeding stock is the foundation of successful hatches.

When being fattened wether lambs should have some succulent food in their ration, for the reason that they will remain healthier and not be troubled with the common disorder called stretches and will usually make a better gain.

You cannot afford to keep poor cows and the best way to get good ones is to raise them yourself. Breed the cows you have to a full-blooded dairy male. If you cannot secure the services of one go in with some of your neighbors and buy one in partnership.

A CLOVER LUNCHEON

UNIQUE MOTIF FOR DECORATION FOR SMALL FUNCTIONS.

Red and White Blossoms to Be Worked Into Appropriate Designs for Table and to Be Used in Trimming Rooms.

One of the prettiest of luncheons for afternoon or evening can be worked out with clover as a motif. All the decorations can be of clover, red and white. Bowls of the fragrant blossoms should stand on mantel and tables, while in the center of the lunch table spread with trefoil design may be a block of green turf from which springs a bunch of fresh and growing pink white clover. Let the large red clover leaves radiate from this to each corner, where there should be little boutonnières of leaves and blossoms.

The refreshments can be Arcadian in their simplicity. If you wish to serve a course luncheon have berries au naturel for the first course, then sorrel soup with croustons and sorrel leaves or cress as relishes. Follow with clover fritters, which are made from the white clover blossoms dipped in regular fritter batter and browned quickly in olive oil, and clover sandwiches, which are delicate slices of home-made bread spread with sweet butter that has been packed in a covered basket of fresh clover blossoms long enough to become impregnated with the odor.

Hot biscuit and honey make a delightful course and honey cakes with strawberry ice cream may be the dessert. If you do not wish as many courses, clover sandwiches with honey cakes and icecream, supplemented by a fruit punch and home-made mints, pink and white, will be sufficient.

Any of the flower or butterfly games will be appropriate.

Here, for example, is a flower contest. Provide each girl with a typewritten copy of the questions, pencil and paper. The one who can answer such a list accurately receives the prize.

1. The flower of June. Rose.
2. The Easter flower. Lily.
3. The flower that calls to church. Belle.

4. The flower that describes a large and vigorous girl. Bouncing Baby.
5. The flower with dark eyes that blooms in July fields. Black Eyed Susan.
6. "Wee crimson tipped flower." Daisy.

7. The precise flower. Primrose.
8. A girl's name and the color of her hair. Marigold.
9. The flower that stands for thought. Pansy.
10. The flower associated with Faust. Marguerite.

11. The modest flower that poets love. Violet.
12. The flower that describes a number of Friends. Quaker Ladies.

This list can be extended to include as many more names as desired.

For prizes that can be made at home nothing is prettier than hand-embroidered belts or opera glass bags, using the clover blossom design. Instead of having a grab bag I would bestow the gifts by the unraveling of a cobweb. Before the arrival of the company wind strings of different colors all over the house, passing them through keyholes, outdoors, in at the windows, upstairs and down. When the time for unraveling the web arrives give each person the end of a string which she must follow until she finds the dainty little souvenir concealed at the end.—Emma Paddock Telford.

Mock Chicken Loaf.
Cook slowly two cups of hominy grits and one teaspoon of salt in three pints of water for three hours. Oil a mold, and line it with a thick layer of the hot cereal, packing it down firmly. In the center put the following mixture: Moisten one cup of fine whole-wheat bread crumbs with two cups of hot milk, then add one-half cup each of chopped hickory and pecan-nut meats, two tablespoons of melted butter, one teaspoon each of onion juice, mixed herbs and salt, one-fourth teaspoon of pepper, and two beaten eggs. Cover the top smoothly with a layer of the hominy, and place the mold in a basin of hot water; bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Turn out and serve with nut sauce.—Harper's Bazar.

Hints on Baking.
If you find the cake is rising in a cone in the center you may be sure the oven is too hot. Never mix a cake until the oven is ready to receive it; it is likely to fall and be heavy. On adding citron to a cake shave it in thin slices, flour it and lay it between layers of the batter. When baking a cake try to have nothing else in the oven, then set the tin as near the center of the bottom shelf as possible. Never leave a cake standing in the tin in which it is baked—it will make it heavy.

Dropped Doughnuts.
One gill milk, one gill sugar, grated rind of one lemon, three gills flour, one egg, beaten separately; one-third teaspoon salt, one-third teaspoon nutmeg, one heaping teaspoon baking powder. Roll in powdered sugar. Very nice.

Loops for Buttons.
In making loops for buttons on a dress or shirtwaist they should be worked over a pencil, as they will launder and keep their shape much more satisfactorily.

HIS WELCOME FOR PRODIGAL

Cowboy Would Have Reversed Proceedings as Recorded in the Scriptures.

Judge Ben E. Lindsey of the famous Denver juvenile court said in the course of a recent address in charity:

"Too many of us are inclined to think that, one misstep made, the boy is gone for good. Too many of us are like the cowboy.

"An itinerant preacher preached to a cowboy audience on the 'Prodigal Son.' He described the foolish prodigal's extravagance and dissipation; he described his penury and his husk-eating with the swine in the sty; he described his return, his father's loving welcome, the rejoicing, and the preparation of the fatted calf.

"The preacher in his discourse noticed a cowboy staring at him very hard. He thought he had made a convert, and addressing the cowboy personally, he said from the pulpit:

"My dear friend, what would you have done if you had had a prodigal son returning home like that?"

"Me!" said the cowboy, promptly and fiercely, "I'd have shot the boy and raised the calf."—Detroit Free Press.
